

WE NOMINATE

Charles Hamilton Schultz 2d, the extraordinarily capable producer of the University Players, the man behind-the-scenes and in-the-boxoffice, who has been largely responsible for the successes achieved by the Players over the course of two summer seasons. A year ago the 22-year old Schultz—a member of Princeton University's Class of 1954 and the youngest producer on the so-called strawhat-and-citronella circuit—revived the University Players, emphasized that they would be concerned with things infinitely more rewarding than the customary fare of summer stock companies and then proceeded to prove that a talented and dedicated young company can more than hold its own when it comes to presenting "good theatre."

This week, with Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" closing out a "balanced summer of dramatic productions," he and his associates once more conjured up memories of the original University Players, the group which was brought into being on Cape Cod in 1928 and became a springboard for Jimmy Stewart, Henry Fonda, Margaret Sullivan and others. While comparisons between past and present are dangerous, the 1954 Players approached their undertakings with the same contagious enthusiasm of their forebears. For instance, Schultz frequently put in a 17-hour day, the cast cheerfully worked until 4:00 a.m. on "strike night" and the Junior University Players, composed of teen-age Princetonians, thought little of cutting by hand the 473 stars required for the "Twelfth Night" set.

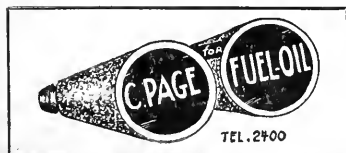

From the beginning Schultz, a native of Johnstown, Pa., and the son of the first woman to land a reporter's job on The Cleveland Press, has been living and breathing "the theater." His first dramatic experience, a part in a fifth-grade operetta entitled "Down on the Farm", was followed by the directorship of a childhood cellar playhouse, the Nickelodeon, that milked coins from his parents and indulgent neighbors. Year by year, as he advanced from Southmont High School, to Culver Academy summer sessions, a post-graduate year at Phillips Exeter Academy and finally to Princeton, he did everything within his power to broaden his understanding of "show business" and devoted his Princeton thesis to "Working Toward a Definition of Modern Tragedy."

An officer of the Princeton Triangle Club and the Theatre Intime, he took his first dier in summer stock at 16, appearing at the Mountain Playhouse, Jennerstown, Pa. In 1952 he was runner-up in a nationwide "dramatic talent search" sponsored by the Philip Morris Radio Playhouse, a distinction which finally permitted him to kiss cinemactress Arlene Dahl. Schultz at one point in his "summer career" specialized in roles in Norman Krasna's "John Loves Mary." It was in this comedy classic that he encountered such production difficulties as playing to a house of 16 (in a converted roller-rink capable of accommodating 3,200) and competing with the appeals of a honky-tonk midway in a carnival park in Altoona, Pa.

For demonstrating beyond doubt that there is a deep and abiding appreciation for "good plays well done"; for giving hundreds of Princetonians good reason to remember the "summer season of '54"; for helping others approach, and possibly surpass, the records made by their predecessors—the University Players of yesteryear, he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for "Merwick" to Hospital. Formal announcements have not yet been made but it is highly probable that within the next few weeks "Merwick", the Bayard Lane residence of the late Bishop and Mrs. Paul Matthews, and now the property of their son, Thomas S. Matthews, formerly editor of Time Magazine, will soon pass to the possession of Princeton Hospital.

The dwelling and its grounds—located between "Stanworth" and "Avalon" and across from "Westland", the former home of President Grover Cleveland—could conceivably prove to be a boon to the Hospital as quarters for convalescent and ambulatory patients.

"Merwick", at one time the residence of the late Professor George L. Raymond, was years ago used by the Graduate School of Princeton University as a residential building and has often been described as Princeton's original Graduate College.

Ordinance Postponed. As expected, the Borough Council at its Tuesday meeting passed on first reading an ordinance calling for a $201,750 expansion and modernization of the municipal incinerator and sewage disposal plant.

A second ordinance calling for capital expenditures of up to $250,000 for other improvements in the Borough was not introduced, however.

A number of questions on the "improvements ordinance," previously recommended by the Borough Planning Board, could not be settled in time for the meeting, according to Tristram B. Johnson, Council President and Chairman of the Finance Committee.

Mayor P. MacKay Sturges and members of the Council stressed that the early introduction of both ordinances had been sought in order to clarify the Borough's debt position for the Board of—Continued on Page 2

Education, which can now go ahead with hearings in Trenton on its proposed $1,770,000 expansion of Princeton High School.

The Board of Education has a meeting scheduled for next Tuesday and is now likely to consider setting a date for a special election on the school bond issue.

Mr. Johnson indicated that since the "improvements ordinance" was not readied for Tuesday's council meeting, it will not be a factor in the Board of Education's planning, and that there is no need for immediate consideration of the ordinance by the council.

New Agreement Needed. Although the incinerator and sewage plant ordinance has been under study for some time, Mayor Sturges said that it will not be passed in final form until a supplemental agreement on the bond issue is reached with the Township and the University.

The incinerator and sewage plant is operated jointly under an agreement drawn in 1932 by the three parties concerned. The joint sewage control committee originally recommended improvement of the plant, however, and the problems of reaching a new agreement are unlikely to cause much, if any, delay in final passage of the ordinance.

The act calls for expenditure of $134,925 on the incinerator plant, which is now greatly overburdened, and of $69,825 on the sewage plant, to meet the needs of Princeton's growing population. Between 60 and 70 per cent of the total cost will go towards modernization of the equipment and the remainder for expansion.

Chief Mahan Retires. The council accepted "with regret and thanks for faithful service" a letter of resignation from Police Chief Edward W. Mahan Jr.

Chief Mahan has been a member of the Borough police for the past 27 years—and for the last 19 has headed the force. The police committee, of which Councilman Dayton Voorhees is chairman, has been instructed to consider the question of a successor to Mr. Mahan in time for the September meeting.

Other Action. The council also: • Voted to accept Harriet Drive as a Borough street and congratulated residents of the street for their efforts.

• Confirmed the election of John W. Donaldson Jr. to Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, and of Robert G. Donald and William H. Karch to Mercer Engine Company No. 3.

• Heard that suit has been entered by the trustees of the Swann Estate (which controls Borough Hall) to determine the legality of an easement requested by the trustees of Princeton Seminary to fulfill zoning requirements for the proposed new library on the site of Lenox Library.

• Was told by Mayor Sturges that Princeton is unlikely to have the exchange PRinceton-1 when the dial telephone system eventually goes into effect, but that steps have already been taken towards obtaining a desirable exchange.

• Received notice from the Trenton Transit Company that it plans to discontinue buses now leaving Princeton at 6 a.m. and 1 a.m., as of next Thursday.

• Heard that the deed of gift for Manquand Park would permit plumbing at the recreation area, but no building to house such facilities.

Possible Contenders. With an expanded Township Committee of five members apparently about to become a reality as of November, it was reported this week that instructions have been mailed to county committee members of both parties on the manner of choosing their two additional candidates.

The possibility of contests for three seats on the committee has launched considerable speculation on the probable nominees, John J. McCarthy Jr. for the Democrats and Ralph S. Mason for the Republicans are already on the ballot for the seat now held by Mayor Albert Salzman.

As reported here last week, Mr. Salzman is a strong possibility to run for one of the two new posts. However, he has said that he does not expect to make his decision until the latter part of this week at the earliest, pending receipt of definite word on a change in the size of the governing body.

Other names mentioned as potential candidates for the GOP ticket include Stanley C. Smoyer, Frederick J. Worthington, Mrs. Ralph M. Ilagen and Bertrand L. Culick Jr., a former member of the Township Committee. For the Democrats, the names of Robert R. France, James S. Cox and Horatio W. Turner have been mentioned as possibilities.

Bamberger's Opening. "Bamberger's, Princeton," the fourth Bamberger's branch to open in New Jersey within the past five years, will become a shopping ac-tuably at the Princeton Shopping Center on Thursday, September 9th, it was reported this week by John C. Williams, company president.

In opening the doors on September 9th (the Thursday after Labor Day), Bamberger's, according to Mr. Williams, will be seeking to serve a trading area of some 130,000 persons with a complete department store which in over 100 different departments will present a representative cross-section of the 400,000 items found in Bamberger's main New York store.

Mr. Williams, long a resident of Princeton, pointed out that the

It's New to Us

On the Mall. Neither heat, rain nor inventory have prevented a new batch of stores at the Shopping Center from opening their showrooms to Princeton's summer shoppers. We made the grand tour of these new shops today and we are now prepared to discuss with you such diverse items as boys' sneakers, Persian rugs, wallpaper and the latest Dior.

We have never been closer to the luminous New East than the coast of Maine, so we were particularly interested in the imported rugs and linens at Philip Farkou's. Mr. Farkou told us that he has Persian rugs in every variety of size, age and colors. He can produce, like a rug, a rug, over one hundred years old. Or he can supply a youngster into half a century old. He also has rugs that are being woven today in the province of Iran.

There are Bokharas, rugs from Tehran and Shiraz, beautiful Saraks. Some are large enough for a formal drawing room, others for a small hallway.

On the linen side of the shop, Mrs. Farkou has hand-made linens from France and displays of linen from Portugal, Japan, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland and the Madeira Islands. You may buy exquisite Swiss batiste handkerchiefs for 50c, or an opulent cut-work banquet cloth for $275.00. There are place-mats edged with Alencon lace or everyday mats in durable and inexpensive cottons.

Designers and Moderates. We did not discuss the delicate matter of Christian Dior's latest silhouette with the Rosette Pennington Shop but, if you drop in, they will probably give you the full story because this shop will carry designs by Dior, among others, Adele Simpson, Cecil Chapman, and Oleg Cassini will be represented here as they are in the Pennington New York Shop, with the addition of Wrage and Anne Fogarty.

There will be moderately-priced women's clothes, too—in the range that hovers around $30. Sports dresses, cocktails, coats, suits—a complete wardrobe, with such accessories as jewelry, handbags and umbrellas.

Sizes, incidentally, will start at size eight—happy news for slimmer readers.

The owners of the Rosette Pennington shops is Louis von Weiss Jr., a Princeton alumnus, and we understand that the executives of the shop will spend considerable time in Princeton to see that it all goes well. The local manager had long experience in the world of fashion before joining the Rosette Pennington staff.

When the Shoes Fit. Young customers investigating the Tween Age Shoe Shop find the four-horse carousel immediately and instantly appealing. Shopping mothers will find much to interest them in a large, moderately-priced collection of shoes, sized from infancy through college years. Children's shoes in this shop are by Little Yankee; boys' are made by Geberich Payne; women's by Connie and Jacqueline.

The shop emphasizes correct fit, and to insure this, they have built a platform along the back wall as a parade-ground for youngsters who are being fitted. Easier to see how a shoe fits when it's walking by at eye level.

The emphasis on fit is carried further to include corrective shoes. At the Tween Age shop you may fill your doctor's prescription for orthopedic shoes.

Naturally, the Shop carries slippers, sneakers, boots, galoshes, socks and shoe polishers. There is also a gimmick for little children that is supposed to keep the shoes tidy. If it works, it's the greatest invention since shoelaces.

Man and Boy . . . are both served with equal quality and style by the Weiss Clothing Store. This shop manufactures its own clothes and this usually means greater economy without loss of—Continued on Page 8

Princeton store sales staff, which is presently gaining first-hand experience in the company's Plain-field store, will number some 200 persons, the majority of whom have been recruited from the Princeton Area. Mr. Williams also noted that an annual payroll of almost $500,000 will be disbursed by the Princeton store.

Most of the services featured by Banhegy's Newark will also be offered by the Shopping Center outlet. These will include, in addition to normal department store merchandise, full charge and credit facilities, a beauty salon, delivery, telephone-ordering service, jewelry and other repair services, interior decorator, personal shopping and many others.

Professional Thief? The epidemic of locker-room thefts that has dismayed Princeton University officials over the course of the past two years has been partially explained by the reported confession of a former college and professional athlete, 33-year old George T. Glisson, of Upper Merion, Pa., who calmly avowed that in 1952-53 and 1953-54 he gathered up some $2,024 in Old Nassau's athletic facilities.

Glisson, according to the Philadelphia Police, kept detailed records of his depredations in a diary, which notes that six separate thefts during Princeton's 1954 baseball season produced $700, nearly $300 more than he netted while "following" Tiger baseball in 1953. He was also extremely active during the football and basketball seasons.

A former football player at the University of Miami, and later with the Boston Braves, Glisson apparently dressed well, "talked well" and had little difficulty in convincing others by his appearance that he "belonged" wherever he appeared.

Local records are of little help in confirming the alleged thief's confessions in that none of the reported thefts were ascribed by the Borough Police and the University Proctors were uncertain as to just what had disappeared in view of undergraduates' traditional reluctance to report anything of an untoward nature.

Soldiers' Field. The giant Festival at Faith, which was held before more than 125,000 spectators at Soldiers' Field, Chicago, Sunday evening, at the start of the Second Assembly of the World Council of Churches, was produced under the direction of an able young Princetonian, John F. Becker, of the Somerville Road, widely known in the allied spheres of radio and television and a former President of the Princeton Community Players.

More than 4,000 choristers, dancers and actors participated in the poignant—some of the most ambitious theatrical undertakings of modern times. The festival was cosponsored by the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, which sold more than 87,000 tickets (nearly twice the capacity of Palmer Stadium) in advance of the performance. Thousands of persons in the stands came by bus, car and train from nearby cities.

The Princeton Area during the week ended Sunday, August 15th, reported highway fatalities but New Jersey-wide it was the worst week of the year in traffic, bringing death to 27 persons. If the trend continues, the toll for the month will be the highest for any August since 1941.

Figures prepared by the State Traffic Safety Bureau show that the week's fatalities included 13 passengers, nine drivers and five pedestrians—as compared with 19 in the comparable week in 1953. The total deaths to date, with Mercer County accounting for 23 of them, is 415, 24 less than were recorded in the same period last year.

ance barring "look-alike" houses have been circulating for the past week.

Builders feel that the ordinance dooms mass-produced housing in the Township and are apparently considering a test of its legality. A major consideration is the possibility that other communities in the State might pass similar ordinances prohibiting architectural uniformity. The Township was the first municipality in New Jersey to do so and second in the nation.

However, Gordon D. Griffin, Township Attorney, reports that to date he has received no notification of a lawsuit against the new ordinance.

Golden Anniversary. Professor and Mrs. George Augustus Hulett, two eminent and beloved Princetonians, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary this past Sunday at their Greenholm home, with gifts of "lasting pleasure" being substituted for the usual entertainment and presents traditionally associated with such a remarkable occasion.

Last spring—before the University "broke up" for the summer—those closest to Dr. and Mrs. Hulett wrote the Hulett's friends and asked them to observe the anniversary by contributing to a small anniversary fund that could be disbursed in ways "most conducive to their well-being and pleasure." Such gifts (the amounts of which will remain confidential) were forwarded to the First National Bank and then delivered to Professor and Mrs. Hulett, together with cards, flowers and notes of explanation.

Indicative of the place Professor and Mrs. Hulett hold in the Princeton Community was this evaluation of their Golden Anniversary by one who knows them best:

"Many wish to recognize this important event in the lives of their good friends, as well as the distinguished contributions made to chemical science by Professor Hulett; the inestimable value of Mrs. Hulett's gracious presence in the life of the University and the town; and the wonderful example of faith and courage in the face of long illness, which both have set for all in contact with them—in short, they wish in some way, however inadequate, to voice their love and admiration, and their appreciation of the intellectual and spiritual influence exerted by Professor and Mrs. Hulett in this community, through a long period of years."

This Week's Births. For the second successive week girls outnumbered boys by a two-to-one margin at the Princeton Hospital. A fortnight ago it was ten girls and five boys and this past week the theoretically weaker sex led, six-to-three.

The parents of sons are: Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. English, 30 Alexander Street Extension; Professor and Mrs. Lawrence Thompson, 26 Edwards Place; and Mr. and Mrs. David Saunders, 433 Walnut Lane.

Among the parents of new daughters are: Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Pierson, R. D. No. 3, Penns Neck; Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso Moore, 31 Jackson Street; Mr. and Mrs. Felix Haas, 222-C Eisenhower Street; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew O'Hara, 2 Varsity Avenue, Penns Neck.

New Restaurant. The Embers, a new restaurant specializing in charcoal-broiled foods and mixed drinks, has been opened eight miles from Princeton out on the Lincoln Highway (Route 27). It is on the site of Most Acres, which was burned to the ground over a year ago.

The air-conditioned restaurant features a compact kitchen with the charcoal grill set in the main bar and dining room. A separate dining room known as The Cypress Room adjoins the main area and can be used for private parties.

"Tobacco Hold-Outs"

Agents of the New Jersey Cigarette Tax Bureau are gunning for 50 "hold-out smokers" who have refused to pay taxes on the tax-free cigarettes they bought from an out-of-state mail order firm.

The "nicotinish 50" have failed to respond to polite notes from the bureau requesting that they pay taxes on cigarettes purchased from the Consumers' Purchasing Association of Alexandria, Va. With the New Jersey tax at three cents a pack, mail-order cigarettes saved buyers $1.50 on every five cartons, the minimum order.

If the diehards, the only recalcitrants among the 1,080 New Jersey residents reported to the State in March by the C.P.A., don't cough up, court action will be set in motion which could cost a violator $250 for failure to register as a mail-order buyer, $250 for possessing untaxed cigarettes and another $1,000 for not paying the taxes.

In accordance with a Federal Law enacted in 1949, mail order dealers must report periodically to all cigarette-tax states the names of mail order purchasers in those states.

ties. The grill kitchen is open from luncheon until 2 a.m. and specializes in steaks, chops and seafood.

The Embers is owned by Mrs. Mabel Most and will be managed by her son, Howard Most, who was graduated from the Hun School in 1948 and attended New York University before seeing Army service.

Conversion. A five-man sub-committee of the Borough's "Zoning Board" has been struggling with one of the chronic headaches in a rigidly zoned municipality—the problem of knowing when and under what conditions to permit owners of single-family houses to "convert" to multiple-dwelling units.

A preliminary report drafted for the committee by consultant Charles K. Agie indicates that some 230 one-family homes in R-3 and R-4 Zones (roughly the area lying between the two Nassau Street "business districts" in the eastern end of the Borough) could be converted into two-family homes under certain reasonable restrictions.

After the committee has completed its study and has consulted at length with representatives of the Zoning and Planning Boards, its recommendations will be the

The members of the committee: Bryan V. Moore, Joseph J. Redding, Everett E. Sotterthwaite, John P. Servis and Richard H. Wood, 35 Maple Street, not Township Committeeman Richard H. Wood.

Motorists Fined. Eight residents of the Princeton area received fines, most of them for speeding, in Borough Traffic Court this week.

Alice E. Willis, of Grovers Mill Road, Cranbury, had two charges against her (including one of reckless driving) dismissed when it was brought out that she was not driving the car in question, but she declined to tell the Police Department who the driver was. Magistrate Paul R. Chesebro said he would ask the Motor Vehicle Department to revoke her license for being uncooperative.

Mrs. Helen E. H. Lewis, of 11 Edwards Place, was fined $15 for careless driving. Robert King, 61 South Stanworth Drive, paid a fine of $10 for speeding and $20 for failing to produce his license when requested by patrolman R. J. Anderson.

Those fined for speeding included: George N. Tower Jr., 43 Wheatshaf Lane; Joseph F. Carrell Jr., Prospect Avenue, Kingston; William J. Gaskill, 688 North Ewing Street; Joseph C. Anchak, Morris Hall, Lawrenceville; and Peter L. Myers, Valley Road.

A Trenton man was fined $10 by Township Magistrate Louis Gerber in what was believed to be New Jersey's first conviction under the recent state law which prohibits the throwing of cigarettes, paper or other articles from a car.

Patrolman Ellis reported seeing the motorist flick a lighted cigarette while driving on the Princeton-Kingston Road. The

C. by Lt. General A. R. Bolling, Third Army Commander. General Bolling said that he had been informed that the 76th's units had compiled the outstanding record among the various reserve units at Fort Bragg this summer.

3-M Discussion Renewed. Three weeks ago, Town Topics carried a letter from Lonnie L. Van Zandt of Skillman, criticizing this paper and the Montgomery Township Community League, which has opposed the entrance of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company into the nearby community.

The mail has brought two letters which in turn were critical of Mr. Van Zandt's position. They are from David Henry Partington, a resident of the area for two decades, and Francis J. Kozenski, former mayor of Montgomery Township. Mr. Partington's letter read, in part:

To the Editor of Town Topics: I noticed with surprise that the Montgomery Township Community League thought it unnecessary to answer the inaccurate statements by Mr. Lonnie Van Zandt which appeared in Town Topics three weeks ago. In the course of expressing what I must presume are his honest opinions, Mr. Van Zandt made several misleading points which ought not to go unchallenged.

The general objective of the Community League is the preservation of the agricultural and residential complexion of the township. Thus it is in opposition to those who would permanently deface the considerable beauty of the most prominent feature of its profile—the Sourland Mountains.

And the Community League does not want a 200 million dollar corporation to set up a granules plant for exactly the same reasons that Princeton Borough and Princeton Township do not want and do not allow heavy industry. If Princeton Borough and Township were menaced by a quarry and granules plant, citizens would protest as quickly and as violently as the residents of Montgomery Township.

Mr. Van Zandt and the ruling officials of the township constantly assert that the land in the Sourland Mountain area is valueless. Having lived in the Somerset Hills for two decades I know that land of the same type can increase in value from a few hundred dollars per acre to thousands of dollars per acre in a surprisingly short time. And of course everyone knows the present value of that once-worthless terrain in Westchester County.

Mr. Van Zandt seems also under the widespread delusion that any type of industry will miraculously reduce the existing burden of taxation. Of course, an examination of the facts reveals that heavy industries employing a high percentage of unskilled labor will invariably increase rather than decrease local taxation. The reason is that greatly increased school costs, highway maintenance, traffic and police costs are not offset by corresponding increases in tax rates.

The Community League is fighting a well-rooted local political machine. But despite this, it has come close to winning in recent elections. Moreover, it is by now well established that the present officials are afraid to put the question of heavy industry to a referendum. They know they would be defeated on this issue. The Community League demands nothing more than the right to vote on this issue, a right which is still denied.

DAVID HENRY PARTINGTON
R.F.D. 2

Former Mayor Replies. Former mayor Kozenski charged that Mr. Van Zandt's view was the equivalent of a "mirage". His major points:

• "One mile of access road (in Montgomery Township) would create the best, most desirable home sites between New York and Philadelphia. The tax return is what it should be, proportionate to the area as a whole. The area is yet to be developed, but it—Continued on Page 9 hardware store that carries some of the latest reminders us of the old-style country store. For example, the new Hardware Corporation at the Shopping Center can provide you with unpainted furniture, (modern and traditional, Black and Decker power tools, paints and wallpaper, or hardware and kitchen accessories. Heavy appliances for sales at Hardware Corporation include Hamilton washers and driers, Magic Chiff ranges, Zenith radio and TV, and appliances by Croyley and Cusco.

There are also plants by Kyanite. The manager of Hardware Corporation tells us that Kyanite is devoted to preserving the surface of, and we are in no position to dispute him.)

Smaller appliances come from Sunbeam and General Electric. There are also lots of Pyrex, Revue ware, Flit and Stanley tools. Even floor coverings, if you are remodeling with a vengeance.

Family Shoes. We used to hear over the radio a singing commercial for National Shoes that went spinning in our ears all day. It was rather surprising to find a real, live National Shoe store that didn't break into song when we walked through the door.

These shoes, as you undoubtedly know, are designed to meet budget tension in the family. You may buy children's shoes for only $2.99 and $3.99 and this is quite a boon to a big family that grows as fast as its cats. Men's shoes are varying prices, the biggest being $6.99 for a pair of white bucks.

Women's shoes are $4.99 and $5.99 for dress shoes (correctives in this higher bracket, too), but most of the everyday shoes are even lower. Debbies, for young girls, start at $3.99.

Sneakers, slippers and moccasins round out the stock, with leather gloves and bags all in the same convenient price bracket. This is the 100th National Shoe Store, by the way.

Diamond in the Rough. We had to converse over the noise of a power lawnmower when we went to Jewels' Jewelry, but we did observe the handsome interior with its recessed alcoves for jewelry display and its warm plywood walls. No jewelry around at the time (they didn't let us into the shop) but we did find that the shop will carry many well-known names in the jewelry catalogs.

Cleaning to the Fore. The University Cleaners and Laundry have been in business here as a laundry since 1902. Dry cleaning has been done only in the past six or seven years, but it now accounts for half of the organization's business.

So, from now on the correct name will be University CLEANERS and Laundry—a switch that shouldn't be too hard to remember.

A La Mode. Country Club Ice-cream, the absolute top-of-the-line to many ice-cream lovers, is now in Princeton at the new Candy Box, 52 Nassau. It's a quality ice-cream that comes in the usual pint, quart, half-gallon or gallon measures. One unusual feature is a plastic container (if you order chocolate, vanilla or strawberry) that you can use again in your refrigerator.

Lots of flavors to choose from, and even an ice-cream cake that's Country Club all the way through.

Air-Tight and Unbreakable. ... and what more could you ask for in a food container? These are Tupperware, a polyethylene plastic that will take anything. Boil soups and pour it boiling into a canister; freeze berries in it down to 72 degrees below zero; fill a large juice canister and lay it on its side in your refrigerator without losing a drop.

These bowls, canisters, tumblers and glasses can be capped with a seal that keeps air out and liquid in: foolproof. You pour in the ice-tea, or whatever, adjust the cap, hurr it as you would a baby to let out the air, and then toss the ice-tea into a picnic basket for any amount of jouncing.

Make a batch of pudding, fill the bowls, then stack them in your refrigerator. The fill will be so tight that no steam will form on the pudding top. A cakebox seals cakes as large as ton-inch, three-layers. A pie container will pop into your freezer.

Tupperware is shown only through home demonstrators and the place to call in Princeton is Mrs. Anita Sieroff, 218-B Halsley, phone 084-W.

Prices are stated: Borden's sealed cereal bowls cost $1.49. A jumbo juice canister is 98c, tumblers are six for $3.99, including the seal tops. Size range on the tumblers is two to nine ounces. That big cake storer is $2.99.

The New Jersey Poll

MCCARTHYISM PROMISES TO BE VITAL QUESTION
IN '54 N. J. ELECTIONS

If this November's all-important elections were being held today, what effect would a candidate's coming out against Senator McCarthy have on New Jersey voters?

Results of a New Jersey Poll completed within the past 10 days show that about 1 out of every 3 people questioned say they would be more likely to vote for a candidate who comes out against Senator McCarthy.

And exactly 1 out of every 4 say they would be less likely to vote for that candidate.

In other words, among people who say their vote would be affected by a candidate's coming out against Senator McCarthy, the number saying they would be more likely to vote for that candidate outnumbered those saying they would be less likely to by a margin of 9 per cent.

To determine what effect a candidate's coming out against Senator McCarthy would have at this time, the New Jersey Poll put the following question to a cross-section of the state's adult citizens:

"Suppose a New Jersey candidate for Congress or the U. S. Senate comes out against Senator McCarthy. Do you think you personally would be more likely or less likely to vote for that candidate if the elections were being held today?"

The vote statewide:

More likely	34%
Less likely	25
No difference	29
No opinion	12

Among Republican voters, 32 per cent say they would be less likely to vote for a candidate who comes out against Senator McCarthy, while 26 per cent say more likely.

In other words, those Republicans in the state who say they would be less likely to vote for a candidate who comes out against Senator McCarthy outnumber by a margin of 6 per cent those who say more likely.

Among rank and file Democrats, on the other hand, more than 2 out of every 5 say that they would be more likely to vote for a candidate who comes out against the Wisconsin Senator. Fewer than 1 in 5 Democrats say they would be less likely to vote for such a candidate.

Thus among Democratic voters, those who say they would be more likely to vote for a candidate who comes out against the Senator outnumber by more than 2 to 1 those who say they would be less likely to vote for that candidate.

Thirty-five per cent of the state's Independents say more likely; 25 per cent say less likely. (It is this Independent group that will hold the balance of power in November's New Jersey U. S. Senate Election.)

The vote by political party affiliation:

	G.O.P.	Dem.	Ind.
More likely	26%	41%	35%
Less likely	32	18	25
No difference	31	29	25
No opinion	11	12	15

It must be understood that today's findings reflect sentiment for the state as a whole. They cannot, for example, be applied to any single community or Congressional district in the state.

Town Topics present the reports of the New Jersey Poll exclusively in this area.

should be developed desirably and not ruined by heavy industry."

• That the per pupil school costs for the community is "exorbitant". The former mayor asserted that while the board of education budget for 1954-55 is $139,410, the township has only 311 grade school pupils in four buildings and 87 pupils at Princeton High School.

• Mr. Kozesnik was also critical of Mr. Van Zandt (who is a member of the board of education) because, he said, "the taxpayers are to be burdened with the cost of a consolidated school building, which in its original design was rejected because the cost had been underestimated at $125,000."

Farm Show Held. Skills of 4-H members were exhibited and judged at the annual Mercer County farm show and picnic held over the weekend at Washington's Crossing Park.

Residents of the area who headed committees for the two-day program included Dennis Elgrim, Lynne Klockner, Mrs. Halford Jay, Nancy Fallon, Veronica Goeke, Mrs. Kathryn Hill, Mrs. Millard Phillipet, Linda Dey, Mrs. Charles Voorhees, Mrs. J. Norman Barlow and Janet Hill.

Kids and Books. Princeton's children have been making notable use of the public library this summer, according to Mrs. Kenneth M. Ritchie, head of the library's children's department. She reports that an average of from 50 to 60 children daily are taking out books.

The library's contest for children will end September 1. Those who have "built their own library" by reading 15 or more books will receive "diplomas" at a party to be held on that date.

The children's department has and Harrison Streets will remain open for an additional two weeks.

In spite of the fact that the William and Olden Playground was closed after two weeks because of lagging attendance, the total registration figures for the summer show only a slight drop from a year ago.

Under the program supervised by C. Edward Christian and the Playgrounds Committee, 952 children were registered at the play-areas. Of the total, 668 were from the Borough and 284 from the University.

Average daily attendance was 492. The totals do not include figures for Marquand Park, the Chestnut and Hamilton areas and William and Olden, where there is no formal supervision by the playgrounds committee.
Features of the program again this year were the series of community tennis tournaments, as well as the junior baseball league, the story-telling program and an infinite variety of organized games.

Miscellany. Dr. Nina Pirrotta, eminent Italian musician, who since 1918 has been Director of the Music Library of the St. Cecilia Observatory and National Academy, Rome, has been appointed Visiting Professor in the University's Department of Music for the academic year 1954-55.
His appointment has been made possible by the recent designation of Professor Oliver Strunk, of the Department of Music, as a Fellow of the University's newly instituted Council of the Humanities.

The Princeton Junior Chamber of Commerce has invited all young men between the ages of 21 and 33 and their wives to attend the Jaycee Picnic, starting at 7:30, Friday, August 25th, at the River Road picnic grounds of the Nassau Social Club.

The Hopewell Calvary Baptist Church has scheduled its annual Harvest Home dinner for Saturday, September 11th. The program, under the direction of James Turtora, calls for the cus-tomy Jewish menu as well as a
"fish pond" game for all ages and a concert by the Hopewell Valley Band.

Exemptions Rise. Property tax exemptions in Mercer County have increased by more than a half million dollars over the total for 1952. At present, $137,300,000 of property is exempt from taxation.
The 1953 figure represents 25.9
per cent of total assessed property valuation in the county. Princeton, with an exceptionally high number of educational institutions, and other tax exempt property, is responsible for a considerable part of the county's tax exemptions.

Statewide, tax exempt property is on the increase. Non-taxable property is now assessed at $1, $11,300,000, or 3% of all assessed property. The increase over the 1952 total is close to $100,000,000.

Dr. Stephen Bailey, recently appointed director of the graduate program at Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, is scheduled to speak at Buck Hall, Falls, Pa., this Sunday on the subject, "What are the Real Obligations of Citizenship?" Dr.
Bailey is a former faculty member at Wesleyan University and is currently conducting his term as mayor of Middletown, Conn.

News of the Theatres

MURRAY THEATRE

A pleasing production of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" will continue through Saturday night at Murray Theatre on the University Campus, bringing to a close a highly successful season for the University Players.
A recap of the eight-week season and news of the prospects for another summer of the Players here in 1955 will appear next week.

"Twelfth Night" was the last of Shakespeare's "golden comedies." "The rain it raineth every-day," and still to come were the dark tragedies and the final great romances. But in this comedy Shakespeare showed maximum command of his poetic powers, and he was writing about love.
So "Twelfth Night" can sustain a youthful production of the kind the University Players have given it. In place of polished elocution and acting, they have spirit and the fine directorial touches provided by John Wilders.

Instead of "big production values," they have a lively pace, a most workable single set and gorgeous costuming. Besides, the comedy is subtitled "or, What You Will," so that any means of evoking the play's charming atmosphere will do.

A number of scenes, speeches and bits were unsuccessful on Monday, but by and large, the production was able to cover them up.

George Petrarca (who played Duke Orsino) spoke Shakespeare's lines exceptionally well, and the nimble tongued and footed Feste, the clown, was skillfully handled by Mario Siletti.

One might have asked for a better reading in the love scenes from the leading ladies, but Pat Crawford was an appealing Viola and Lelia Barry convincing as romantic and sentimental Olivia.

"Twelfth Night" is something over 350 years old and yet the audience still found it full of much laughter. The actors of the sub-plot had their ups and downs, yet they were largely responsible for much of the fun.

Francis Schmetz played the Falstaffian Sir Toby Belch and Thomas Rimer the "out-to-lunch" fop, Sir Andrew Aguecheek. Philip Minor kept the part of Malvolio consistently on the light side, but it seemed to work out. Helen Fox as Maria and Charles Robinson as Fabian assisted in the humor.

Since "Twelfth Night" represents the culmination of Shakespeare's work in the romantic comedy vein, the movement of the play is swift and sure, and the joining of the two plots deft. However, Mr. Wilders' direction was clearly a help in moving the scenes across the small Murray stage at such a pleasing pace.

Many small touches, including the incidental music credited to Frank Lewis, were of value to the production. All in all, you may have seen a better "Twelfth Night," but this makes a happy evening and a fine way to close the Players' season.

"Two Blind Mice," the comedy about an obscure government agency which didn't cease operations when it was abolished, which is playing now through Saturday evening at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope. The next tenant at the barn theatre will be "The Champagne Complex," a new comedy by Leslie Stevens, whose "Bullfight" was an off-Broadway hit this past season. Because of schedule changes (see below) the comedy opens Monday for a run of two weeks, instead of one.

Patricia Smith, Frank Albertson and Elliott Reid will be co-starred in the premiere of "Champagne Complex." The character comedy is scheduled to open in New York on October 26.

The play chronicles a roller-coaster romance between a vivacious young magazine writer (Miss Smith) and her ambitious publisher (Mr. Albertson). The young authoress goes on an unexpected champagne binge, which calls for the psychiatric services of Mr. Reid.

Season Altered. A surprise withdrawal of the musical comedy "The Day Before Spring" by its authors, Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe, briefly produced a two-week hole in the Bucks schedule.

However, a heavy advance for "Champagne Complex" has allowed the management to decide to extend the comedy for a second week, running through September 4. The recent hit "Sabrina Fair" with Constance Bennett starred has been booked to fill the other open week.

Short Notes. Performances of "Rumplestiltskin" will be given at 2 and 4 p.m. this Friday at the Bucks Playhouse. Proceeds from the children's matinees are slated to go towards the building

SHAKESPEARE, SPEWACK

The current choice on the immediate summer theatre front is devoted strictly to the comedies of Shakespeare and the team of Bella and Sam Spewack.

The local offerings: Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" here at the Murray; the Spewacks' "Two Blind Mice" at the Bucks County Playhouse, and "Kiss Me, Kate," the Spewacks' book adaption of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew," at the Music Circus in Lambertville.

of a swimming pool for children in New Hope.

Jerome Cowan, resident star at the Playhouse, has been released from his contract by producer Michael Ellis to take on a starring role in the national road company of "The Moon Is Blue." He will depart after this week's show closes to assume the role he played when the comedy opened the Bucks season this summer.

Culder Willingham's new comedy, "The Automobile Man," which drew generally unfavorable reviews, set a new record at the Bucks Playhouse for high gross on a one-week show. The figure was $7,251.

The second weeks of "The Cocktail Party" and "Aboard the Bandwagon" turned in slightly bigger grosses—chiefly because of the absence of complimentary seats. The average gross for the first 10 weeks this season at the new Hope barn theatre is a record (and amazing) $6,967.

MUSIC CIRCUS

The Music Circus in Lambertville has juggled its plans, cancelling the second week of "The Boys from Syracuse" and substituting an old favorite at the tent arena, "Kiss Me, Kate." "Kate" opened Tuesday and runs through this Sunday evening. It will be followed by "Countess Maritza".

Edward Roecker is cast in the role of Petruchio and Victoria Sherry is playing Kate. Joey Faye and Herb Corey have also been held over from the "Syracuse" cast to play the gangsters in "Kate". Others featured are Mildred Cook, Larry Haynes and Jerry Ross, the Music Circus choreographer.

Sports In Princeton

Sailing Mayor, Borough Mayor P. Mackey Sturges, who annually participates in the New York Yacht Club Cruise in New England waters, garnered more than his share of honors on the recently concluded port-to-port sail. On the last day's "run" in Putnam, Mass., over 20 miles of steep seas with the wind up to 30 knots on Buzzards Bay, Mayor Sturges' Class B, sloop Sapphire, rolled home in front, some seven minutes ahead of the runner-up.

Princeton Triumphant. The will-to-win, combined with headsup baseball and two superlative hurling efforts by left-handed Pat Tidey, carried the Princeton A.C. to victory in the championship play-offs of the Tri-County League.

One game down to Hopewell in the two-out-of-three series, the Princeton entry evened the standings with a 2-1 victory and then came from behind to post an identical 2-1 score in the titillating finale on the High School Athletic Field.

Following a nine-day lay-off, the Princetonians could do little in the play-off opener and were forced to be content with two infield hits by Ray Davis and Bob Dennen, as Hopewell, sparked by John Carter's booming right arm, reached Bruce Dennen for a half-dozen hits and a comfortable 3-0 decision.

Three days later Princeton hounded right back, with Tidey, a sophomore at Lafayette, disregarding a blistered finger and tossing a neat two-hitter in front of a sparkling defensive infield. The winning run was scored in the fifth by Del White, who walked, reached third on Davis' execution of the hit-and-run and scored on a passed ball.

In the winner-take-all third game, it was Tidey all of the way. The home squad fell behind in the first but behind Tidey's airtight pitching scored in the fifth and sixth innings. The first run was one for the books.

TRAINER OF THE YEAR: Eddie Zanfrini, a specialist in the prevention and treatment of athletic injuries, has been named "Trainer of the Year," by Unico National, a nationwide organization made up of Americans who are of Italian descent. First called to Princeton University's sports staff in 1933, the popular Zanfrini was one of the trainers who helped train this country's 1952 Olympic Squad.

High School senior, walked and in succession stole second, third and home. An inning later White reached first on an error, pilfered second, nipped into third on an infield out and rode over the plate on a passed ball.

County Firemen's Baseball. The nine-team County Firemen's League, all of whose participants are associated with volunteer fire companies, is currently "tingling down the curtain on its fifth successful summer season with Mercer Engine Company No. 3, victors in Section "B," opposing Belle Mead, the reigning power in Section "A," for the county crown.

While No. 3, managed by Nelson Davison and sparked by the redoubtable Huck McCree, dominated Section "B" throughout the campaign and posted a 13-and-1 record, Belle Mead and Kingston staged a season-long dog-and-cat fight that included a rite play-off before Belle Mead finally emerged on top.

The final standings in both sections follow:

a record run of three weeks. The adaptation of Shakespeare's "Tom of the Shrew" is considered to be Cole Porter's greatest score. The book was adapted by Bella and Sam Spewack.

GRIST MILL PLAYHOUSE

Barbara Bell Geddes and Brian Sherman are co-starred in the sophisticated comedy "The Little Hut" at the Grist Mill Playhouse located upstate on Route 206 near Andover. The attraction continues through Saturday evening.

The current touring version of "Wish You Were Here" arrives on Monday at the Grist Mill for a week's run. The Arthur Kober-Joshua Legon book musical with a score by Harold Rome plays for 597 performances on Broadway.

Jo Wilder, Joe Sargent, Faith Dane, Sunny Sparks, Tony Foster and Gordon Hanson head the cast of 18, supported by an all-New York chorus of singers and dancers. The Grist Mill schedule includes a matinee on Wednesday at 2:30.

Ivy Group Action

While the Ivy Group's football round-robin will not start until the Fall of 1956, the eight members of the Group have taken their first coordinated public relations action and have announced that next month they will issue their initial consolidated "football brochure"—a press booklet listing the respective squad-listings and the other data pertaining to the conduct of football on Ivy Group campuses.

Each of the signatory institutions of the Ivy Group compact—Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Princeton and Yale will be allotted four pages on which to list gridiron highlights and to describe just how their overall sports programs are organized and conducted. Some 2,000 copies of the booklet will be published, with each of the members distributing it to its newspaper, radio and television outlets in their respective areas.

Betty Whelan Advances. Betty (Mrs. James) Whelan, Springdale Club Champion and also the number one linkswoman in the Trenton District, continues to demonstrate that she ranks high among the Garden State's outstanding woman golfers.

In the second annual Elizabeth Goss Round-Robin Tournament of the Garden State Women's Golf Association, Mrs. Whelan is pushing Ridgewood's Mrs. Marge Mason, Somerset Hills' Mrs. Edwin Burke and Glen Ridge's Miss Betty Park for top honors.

At the end of the second round of the match-play tourney, which will be concluded August 24th over the Somerset Hills' layout, Mrs. Whelan was in third place—10 scant four points out of the runner-up slot and still within halting distance of Mrs. Mason, the State's pace-setter in match play.

Tusculossa Bound. Thomas Murray Jr., son of Sgt. and Mrs. Thomas R. Murray, 115 Linden Lane, has been awarded a full four-year athletic scholarship by the University of Alabama and will report at Tusculossa on Wednesday, September 1st, for the opening of football practice.

A member of one of Princeton's best-known athletic families, Murray last fall served as co-captain of the High School team and at season's end was awarded Little Mercer County honors. As a Little Tiger he was also stand-out in basketball and track and provided over the High School Athletic Association.

Stormy Petrel. Mercer Beasley, Princeton University's pre-World War II coach of tennis, bobbed up in the headlines once more this past week and in his new capacity as president of the Professional Lawn Tennis Association had a few sharp words for amateur tennis, one of his primary interests during the days when he was pushing Frank Parker and others to stardom.

IT HAPPENED LAST WEEK AT BAILEY'S

If you feel that you could use a nice cord summer suit, in sizes 7-15 made of crease-resistant rayon and cotton-styled by Devonshire, Mr. Bailey was lucky enough to find 50 assorted suits, regularly priced at $12.95 to $14.95. These are now being sold at the low, low price of $5.

Just received—beautiful corduroy jumper dresses in fine print—wonderful for school wear, styled by a famous manufacturer. Out they go at $9.95! Regular price $12.95.

You know how hard it has been to find a good-looking pair of Bermuda shorts. Most of you know that Bailey's designs, creates, and manufactures its own (Bailey Associates Company). To those women who would like an exclusive pair of dark grey wool flannel or cotton plaids that are different—only at Bailey's will you find them at the low price of $6.95 to $7.95, sizes 10-18. Nice for college.

A tip—you'll need gym suits, sneakers, leotards, ballet shoes, no stop in. Nothing like being prepared for school!

 clared, "the public is being taken for a ride by the word amateur in tennis. It has long been known that some players are getting more than their usual expense allowance from tournament officials."
 "At the rate this amateur game is going, there will be no tournament circuit for the players to tour in the next few years. The tournament chairmen are fed up with being held up for extra cash. Consequently, tournaments are falling by the wayside," he said.
 Beasley, who has stated that amateur netsters are making as much as $15,000 per year, insists that it the United States Lawn Tennis Association is unable to act, it is high time to find some one who can.

His solution is to have "an impartial committee investigate the amateur picture. This group

"Old-Timers' Game"
 Princeton's version of the major leagues' annual all-star attractions, featuring Stars Present, vs. Stars Past, has been scheduled for Thursday, August 26th, at 6:00 p.m. on the University's Brokaw Field, where an all-star aggregation will cross bats and match pitches with the Princeton A.C., the newly crowned champion in the Tri-County League. Jack Petrone is managing the contingent which has challenged the 1954 league kingpins.

should start from scratch and put every top-ranking player and tournament official under oath to learn just what monies, in the form of expenses, these players are receiving."

According to Beasley, Governor Robert B. Meyner (a confirmed weekend tennis player) "would be the ideal man to head such a committee, if he's able to find time. . . ."

"Baschall has been completely cleaned up and basketball is now in the process of housecleaning. There is no reason why we can't do the same thing in tennis."

Football Hall of Fame. Three Princetonians of yesteryear together with a former Princeton football coach, who sandwiched in his "Princeton tenure" between prolonged tours of duty in the "Big Ten," are numbered among the 52 gridiron immortals recently elevated to the National Football Hall of Fame in the first election conducted by the football shrine in three years.

The selecting body—known as the Football Honors Court and representing all sections of the country—reviewed the qualifications of the outstanding players and coaches of hundreds of colleges over the period from 1889 through 1943. Players, according to the ground-rules, must be out of college at least ten years and must be deemed the "greatest and most obvious," while coaches must be restricted to those retired from active coaching for at least five years—in this case, prior to 1949.

"To insure a standard of fairness, the players were considered in two groups. Twenty were chosen from the Walter Camp Era (1889-1924) and 20 from the post-Camp Era (1925-1943)," it was explained by Bill Cunningham, Boston sports columnist and chairman of the Honors Court.

The players elected represented 27 different colleges in all parts of the United States. Seven colleges, including Princeton, Harvard, Yale, Michigan and Army, had multiple selections. Although not gaining a player's berth, Penn State enjoyed the distinction of having three former coaches named—Hugo Bezdek, Dick Harlow and Bob Higgins.

The honored Princetonians, all of whom bloomed in the Camp Era, were guard John DeWitt '04, tackle Edward J. Hart '13 and fullback James B. McCormick '08. Nassau's standard-bearer among the coaches was Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler, whose coaching career, prior to his appointment to his present post as Michigan's Director of Athletics, spanned 18 years at Minnesota, Princeton and Michigan.

 Players from the post-Camp Era included: Jim Bausch, of Kansas; Jay Berwanger, of Chicago; Chris Cagle, of Army; Frank Carideo, of Notre Dame; Wes Fesler (former Princeton end coach), of Ohio State; Tommy Harmon, of Michigan; Mel Hein, of Washington State; Herb Joesling, of Minnesota; John Kilmhrough, of Texas A. & M.; Gene McEver, of Tennessee; Ben Oosterbaan, of Michigan; Frank Sinkwich, of Georgia; Ben Tieknor, of Harvard; Byron (Whizzer) White, of Colorado, and Ted Widseth, of Minnesota.
